Webcast 1 September: TISAX (Termin 2)

TISAX has long been established as the leading information security standard in the automotive industry. But its relevance now extends far beyond this sector. In a world of growing regulatory requirements and increasing cyber threats, TISAX is proving to be a valuable foundation that helps organisations meet a wide range of security and compliance demands, well beyond automotive.

In this webcast, we will show you how TISAX creates synergies with other key frameworks and regulations, and how you can leverage your existing TISAX efforts to address broader challenges.
